AUSTRALASIAN INSURANCE COMPANY.

The following are the Conditions endorsed on the Company's Life Policies, and will be found to contain very extended geographical limits, and the utmost liberality consistent with safety.

I. Limits of Residence.

Persons whose lives are insured, not being engaged in any Military, Naval, or Maritime occupation, may proceed to and reside in any part of the globe comprised within the following limits, without the payment of any extra premium, except for sea risk (see Condition II.), viz :—1. The whole of Europe without limitation. 2. The whole of North America, situate to the North of the 36th degree, North latitude. 3. The whole of the Colonies of New Zealand and Tasmania without limitation. 4. Such parts of the Colonies of the Cape of Good Hope and Australia as are situated South of the 23rd degree of South latitude. But this insurance shall become void if the person whose life is insured shall go beyond the above limits, unless such extra premium shall have been previously paid to the Company as the Directors shall consider proportionate to the additional risk.

II. Sea Risk.

A small per centage is charged for sea risk, except in passing in a decked vessel between one part of Australia and another, or between Australia, Tasmania, and New Zealand, or any of them.

III. Renewal of Policy.

No insurance shall be in force until the day on which the premium shall have been actually paid. The renewal premium shall be due to the Company on the same day in each succeeding year, and if not paid within one calender month from that day, the insurance shall be out of force.

IV. Duelling, Suicide, &c.

In the event of persons insuring their own lives, and afterwards dying by their own act, or by the hands of justice, or in consequence of having been engaged in a duel, the policy shall, notwithstanding such death, remain in full force so far as regards the actual amount of the interest of any party to whom the policy shall have been legally assigned for an adequate pecuniary consideration; and where no such assignment shall have been made, the company undertakes to pay the family of the deceased, in lieu of the sum insured, the full sum which would have been given for the surrender of the policy on the day preceding such death.

V. Proof of Death.

All claims on the Company for sums insured shall be supported by a solemn declaration to be made before a justice of the peace, to prove where and by what cause the death shall have happened, also by certificates of burial, and by such other documents as the Directors may reasonably require. When such proof shall have been satisfactorily made, the amount of the insurance, with all outstanding bonuses thereon, shall be paid WITHIN ONE CALENDER MONTH following.

VI. Division of Profits.

At the first division in 1869, and at each subsequent triennial division, a portion of the profits arising from policies issued on the participating scale of premiums, will be apportioned amongst the then existing participating policy-holders, in proportion to the amount of premiums paid during the interval. The bonus thus apportioned will be receivable either by a payment in cash, by an equivalent reduction of the future annual premiums, or by an equivalent augmentation of the sum insured, according to the option of the policy-holder. Such option must, however, be stated at the time of effecting the insurance, or otherwise the bonus can only be applied in augmentation of the sum insured.

VII. Military Clause.

Persons employed in a volunteer, naval, or military capacity, are insured at the same rate of premium as civilians, during such time only as their services are confined within the limits of the colony in which they may reside at the time of effecting the insurance; but this policy will become void if the person whose life is insured should enter the regular army or navy, or should engage in active foreign service, without the previous payment of such extra premium as the Directors may require.

PREFACE.

In presenting to the Public the Official Post-office Directory for 1869, the publisher begs to thank them for the support bestowed upon the work on its first appearance. As may be surmised, the changes that take place during the year are so few in comparison to the number of names comprised in the 630 post towns of the colony, that an entirely new edition of the Directory every year would be uncalled for, and at the same time entail a heavy loss on the publisher.

During the past year, however, nearly eighty new post-offices have been established; and it is at the suggestion of many former purchasers, who have found the benefit of a complete Victorian Directory, that the volume of 1868 has been corrected, and the additional post-offices added, in order to bring the present edition up to date, and under that arrangement enable the publisher to offer the Directory for 1869 at the reduced price of One Guinea.
